

“You have heard me teach things that have been confirmed by many reliable witnesses. Now teach these truths to other trustworthy people who will be able to pass them on to others.” — 2 Timothy 2:2

There is a table at 317 Coffee and Cafe that I keep coming back to — not because of the coffee, but because of what God keeps doing there.

This has become one of my favorite places to be throughout the week. Multiple days a week, I sit at a corner table across from a man who is working through something real. A marriage under pressure. A distance that has crept in between a father and his kids. A question about who he is and who God is calling him to be.

We open the Word. We pray. We talk honestly about the hard things in life. And the men keep showing up.

Not long ago, one of those men looked at me across from that table and said:

“Billy, you have no clue how this time with you has saved my marriage.”

I sat with that for a long time afterward. Because it was never really about me — it was about what God does when men are willing to be open and willing to grow. I am honored to sit at that table with each man God brings.

This is what your partnership makes possible. Thank you for being part of it.

Men Are Being Changed — And So Are Their Families

I meet with men throughout the week — young husbands, new dads, men stepping into leadership for the first time, men healing from wounds they’ve carried for years. What unites them is simple: they want to grow. They want to be the men their families need them to be.

And God is answering that hunger.

The men I sit with, young and old, are not just growing — their walk with the Lord is being strengthened. Their marriages are shifting. Their kids are noticing. The posture a man carries at home changes everything downstream, and we are watching that happen in real time. It is one of the most humbling things I get to witness.

This is exactly what the vision of “Lead men to lead men” looks like when it takes root.

Thank you for investing in it.

Illuminate Date Night

We were thrilled to partner with Out Of The Dust and, for the first time, Called to Love, for our Illuminate Date Night on June 13th - and what a night it was. A special evening set aside for couples — a night of entertainment, encouragement, and honest, practical truth for marriages. The room was full of anticipation. The food was good. But what mattered most was what happened between couples.

A wife, the next day, said, “I’m still floating from last night!”

Others came up to us afterward and said simply: “This was exactly what we needed.” That is why we keep doing this. One evening, with the right people in the room and the right truth spoken over a marriage, can change the entire trajectory of a couple's life together.

Pray with us for God to continue to move in every marriage represented there.

A New Door — and a Story That Needs to Be Told

A few months ago, I had the opportunity to attend a prayer retreat at the Tributary in northern Arkansas — a beautiful ministry that offers rest and respite care to missionaries. I went to be refreshed. I didn't expect to come home with a new calling on my heart.

While I was there, I met Bramuel — a pastor from Kenya with a remarkable burden.

At a young age, Bramuel began noticing something troubling: many of the pastors he encountered across Kenya did not know how to shepherd people. They had theology — but the practical, relational work of caring for souls was a gap. God put it on his heart to do something about it, and he has spent years teaching pastors how to truly pastor.

We spent time together at the Tributary — two men far from home, talking about what God had put in front of each of us. By the time we said goodbye, Bramuel had extended an invitation: come to Kenya, hear this story firsthand, and help tell it.

I believe this is a God-ordained open door. Bramuel's work is equipping a generation of pastors who will strengthen the church across Kenya. That story deserves to be told — and I want to help tell it.

Will you pray with me about this opportunity?

How You Can Pray:

- For the men Billy meets with weekly — that God's Word would take deep root and overflow into their homes, marriages, and relationships with their kids
- For every couple at our Illuminate Date Night to be strengthened and encouraged in their relationships
- For wisdom and discernment as Billy prays about the invitation to Kenya and Bramuel's ministry
- For Bramuel — that God would continue to use him powerfully to equip pastors across Kenya
- For our family and ministry — that we would serve with wisdom, faithfulness, and complete dependence on the Lord, and for His full provision as we walk out this calling.

Thank you for standing with us. Every prayer, every word of encouragement, every gift — it makes this work possible. We are deeply grateful for you and for the way God has placed you in our lives as partners in this mission.

With joy and hope,

Billy & Rebecca
